Explore. Invent. Transform.

RSNA® 2017

Explore. Invent. Transform.

Explore

Explore new ideas. Seek innovative concepts. Consider novel interpretations to reframe your point of view. The medical landscape is changing more now than ever before—and radiology is poised to take a leading role from the center of it all.

Invent

Invent a fresh approach. Develop new theories. Put groundbreaking science into action. Breakthrough discoveries are waiting to be made—and medical imaging specialists are positioned to impact healthcare across every specialty.

Transform

Transform medicine. Change patient care. Reconstruct new ways of thinking from outmoded doctrines. The time for bold action is now—and we are the leaders to create a new future with our expertise, skill and vision for excellence.

Explore. Invent. Transform. The theme of RSNA 2017 inspires radiologists with a call to advance patient care through ambition and visionary action. It's a fitting invitation for the Society's 103rd Scientific Assembly and Annual Meeting, where the best and brightest in the field convene to share knowledge, learn new skills and discover pioneering science to change the course of medicine.

For over 100 years, the RSNA annual meeting has been synonymous with innovation and excellence—and this year promises to extend that legacy. Developed with meticulous attention to detail, the course program is packed with plenary sessions and top-level education covering topics like dementia research, machine learning, radiofrequency ablation, patient-centered radiology and high impact clinical trials.

RSNA 2017 is the specialty's premier event. We look forward to seeing you there!
