Most Memorable Experiences:

This year has been very busy working toward the recognition of advanced practice roles in medical imaging and radiation therapy – particularly the RA. My involvement in committees with the American College of Radiology and Radiological Society of North America has been a highlight of my service this year; through relationship building, we have continued to advance the RA profession. It has been a pleasure to present to several of the ACR's state radiological societies to educate radiologists about the value of the RA as part of the radiologist-led team. Through both the ACR and RSNA committees, we have been able to help other organizations see why the RA is an asset to radiology departments nationwide while simultaneously working to combat further scope creep from other nonphysician radiology providers. I am looking forward to the upcoming ACR annual meeting where we will be presenting two resolutions to further solidify our bonds with ACR leaders.

Closing Remarks:

It has been an absolute pleasure to work with the entire ASRT Governance team. Jason Bradley, Meredith Gammons, Dan DeMaio and the entire ASRT administrative staff have been invaluable during our work alongside the amazing volunteers who serve the profession on the Practice Standards Council, Committee on Bylaws, Commission, Sergeant-at-Arms Committee and Minutes Approval Committee. Without this collaboration and dedication, our jobs as speaker and vice speaker would not have been as successful this year. THANK YOU to all involved. Lastly, I am excited for the opportunity to continue my service to the members and the profession as vice president next year.
